No income tax upto 12 lakh under new regime, says Nirmala Sitharaman

Agency: Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman presented her eighth consecutive Union Budget in 2025, spotlighting economic recovery, tax reforms, and infrastructure development. The Economic Survey 2025 forecasts India's GDP growth at 6.3% to 6.8% for 2025-26, demonstrating resilience amidst global economic fluctuations. Unemployment has also seen a significant drop from 6.0% in 2017-18 to 3.2% in 2023-24, reflecting a healthier job market. In terms of taxation, a major relief was offered with no income tax on incomes up to 12 lakh under the new tax regime, aimed at enhancing middle-class spending power. The threshold for TDS on rent was raised to 6 lakh from 2.40 lakh. A new Income Tax bill is slated for introduction the following week, with by 2030. For agriculture, the PM Dhan Dhanya Krishi Yojana addresses productivity and post-harvest challenges amidst declining cereal output. Social welfare measures include formalizing the gig economy by providing identity and registration to workers, thereby extending social security benefits. A high-level committee was proposed to recommend regulatory reforms in non-financial sectors within a year. Fiscal discipline is evident with the fiscal deficit targeted at 4.8% for FY25, with projections to lower it to 4.4% the following year. Market reactions were positive, with shares in companies like HUL, Godrej CP, and ITC experiencing upturns due to tax relief announcements. However, there were expectations for more aggressive tweaks in tax slabs and a stronger focus on AI and infrastructure which were partially addressed. Additional insights from Budget 2025 include an emphasis on digital infrastructure with initiatives like the Digital India Expansion Program, aiming to extend high-speed internet to rural areas. There's also significant investment

Hamas releases three Israeli hostages under Gaza ceasefire deal

Agency: Hamas on Saturday released three hostages, including an American-Israeli citizen, as part of the ceasefire deal between Israel and the Palestinian terrorist organisation. Ofer Kalderon, a French-Israeli dual national, Yarden Bibas and Keith Siegel, an American-Israeli citizen, were handed over to the Red Cross in southern Gaza's Khan Younis after they had spent 484 days in captivity, as part of the latest hostage-for-prisoner swap, aimed at putting a halt to the 15-month-old war in Gaza. "Their release today brings a ray of light in the darkness, offering hope and demonstrating the triumph of the human spirit," the Hostages and Missing Families Forum said, as reported by Agency. Bibas will be returning to an empty home as both his sons, 9-month-old baby Kfir and 4-year-old Ariel, were kidnapped by Hamas on October 7, 2023, making them the youngest hostages being held by the Palestinian terrorist organisation. However, Hamas claimed that both Bibas' children and their mother Shiri, who was abducted at the same time, died in an Israeli airstrike in November 2023. On the other hand, Siegel's release makes him the first American citizen to be released in the ongoing ceasefire deal. Both Siegel, 65, and his wife, Aviva, were picked up from their home in Kibbutz Kfar Aza when Hamas raided the area on October 7. While Aviva was released during the November 2023 hostage-for-prisoner swap, Siegel's release came as a huge relief. From meeting former US President Joe Biden and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, Aviva left no stones unturned to get her husband of 43 years back home. French President Emmanuel Macron expressed joy after the release of French national Ofer Kalderon. Kalderon's two children, Erez and Sahar were freed during the November 2023 hostage exchange deal. Saturday witnessed a peaceful handover of hostages as compared to the chaotic scenes that ensued on Thursday as Hamas guards had a tough time shielding hostages from a hostile crowd in Gaza. As many as 18 hostages, including five Thai nationals, were released on Thursday in exchange for 400 Palestinian prisoners. The second phase of the negotiation deal will start on Tuesday where both sides will focus on the remaining hostages and the withdrawal of the Israeli army from Gaza.
